FEDERAL CONTROL OF RAIL RATES UPHOLD

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The supreme court today declared.

The court sustained the lower courts, which prohibited the Wisconsin railroad commission from interfering with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad in putting into effect increases in passenger fares in state travel authorized by the interstate commerce commission.

The court in another decision handed down today held that railroad rates, fares and charges within the state of New York are subject to regulation by the interstate commerce commission. The court in the New York case affirmed the decision of the United States district court of the northern district of that state requiring the state to comply with orders of the interstate commerce commission in increasing passenger fares and the rates on cream and milk.

Both rate cases grew out of an order of the interstate commerce commission authorizing railroads to increase interstate rates, fares and charges, and to bring their intrastate rates and fares to the level of interstate rates.

The commission held the state rates must be adjusted to eliminate preferences and discriminations in favor of traffic moving between points wholly within a state and against interstate commerce.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE SUSTAINED BY COURT

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The woman's suffrage, or 19th amendment, was today declared constitutional by the supreme court.

The supreme court dismissed for want of jurisdiction the suit brought by Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, who sought to challenge the constitutionality of the amendment.

Family Near Starvation From Fasting

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—For obeying what he declared to be the order of the Lord ordering him and his family to deny themselves the ordinary comforts of life and to fast, Robert A. Schlusser, of Pontiac, Ill., has been committed to a hospital for the insane. It was learned today that Schlusser's three children are in a precarious condition due to fasting.

Local authorities investigated conditions in the Schlusser home and found the family near starvation and the house bare of furniture, clothes, plumbing and electric fixtures. Mrs. Schlusser after being taken to the hospital ward of the county jail consented to take nourishment. Schlusser was taken before a lunacy commission on Saturday and ordered to the state hospital.

Carries Her Aged Mother To Safety

NEW YORK, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Dense smoke pouring from the basement of Trinity church vestry house at Church and Fulton streets, directly behind historic St. Paul's church, where George Washington attended divine services, brought fire apparatus to the scene on the jump today. The blaze was confined to the basement, where it had started. Smoke, sweeping up through the building, gave ground to the fear that the whole structure was threatened. The damage was slight.

Five aged clergymen fled to the graveyard which separated church and vestry house. Miss Effie Armstrong, superintendent of the house, carried her 72-year-old mother, four times the size of the street.

Cheap Eggs For Lent

CHICAGO, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Cheap eggs for Lent were signaled today by a new drop in quotations. Today's prices showed a fall of a cent a dozen per day for the last ten days.

The wholesale quotation for first quality eggs here today was 27 cents, as against 28 cents on the corresponding date a year ago, as well as for ten days back this season.

Mild weather and like receipts were the reason assigned for the decline in the egg market, a decline in notable contrast with advancing values of late for other farm products.

GENEVA, O., Feb. 27.—This town celebrated 40th anniversary of the birth of Enrico Caruso by playing his phonograph records.

EUROPE'S SENSATION

MADAME SAKHAROFF is the dancing sensation of Europe. She's the daughter of Admiral Von Tirpitz, who was himself somewhat of a sensation as Germany's submarine chief in the world war.

Many Gifts Presented To Princess Mary; To Wed Viscount Tomorrow

LONDON, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles spent the last morning before their wedding receiving a number of individuals and deputations whose offerings swelled the vast collection of gifts which is already overflowing the state rooms of Buckingham Palace. To each visitor bringing a present, the princess expressed her thanks. During the past fortnight she has received dozens of these acknowledgments daily, rushing from the receiving rooms from time to time to give her dressmakers opportunity for the necessary trying on of her many new gowns.

Despite the fact, however, that Princess Mary has devoted so many hours to the receiving of presents, the demands upon her time have been so great that hundreds of persons have been obliged to leave their gifts with her secretaries or the palace attendants and to such persons written acknowledgments will be sent later.

Among the gifts received today was a pair of silver candlesticks from Rodney Wainman, of New York, presented for him by Colonel George Wood, a personal representative in London. Princess Mary thanked Colonel Wood and said the candlesticks would be placed among her choicest possessions and would be always greatly treasured.

Morse, Sons And Others Indicted For Alleged Fraud

Says He Drove Taylor Slayer

HARRY M. FIELDS, held by Detroit police, has told authorities he drove the slayer of William D. Taylor, Los Angeles, movie director, to the scene of the murder, police say. He also gave the name of the supposed slayer and other details of the crime, which Los Angeles police are checking up.

Police Renew Search For Sands

LOS ANGELES, CAL., February 27.—Practically all leads to a solution of the murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director, here February 1, having failed, the police declared today they are prepared to concentrate their further efforts upon a search for Edward F. Sands, Taylor's missing former buller-secretary.

It was planned to assemble new data on Sands, including even his whereabouts, it was said and to compile a special bulletin for distribution to virtually every peace officer in the United States.

The police frankly state they believe Sands can supply a clue to Taylor's murderer.

Police Sergeant Jack Stelzow was said to have gone to San Francisco to search for a woman to whom legends bearing on the Taylor case were reported to have been sent from here the night of the murder and the next day.

State Offers To Mediate Textile Strike

PROVIDENCE, R. I., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—With strike committees and manufacturers' associations considering acceptance or rejection of the state mediation board's proposal for settlement, the strike situation in the cotton mills of this state was without change today.

Word had gone out a day or two ago that mill owners of the Pawtucket Valley intended reopening their plants today under the protection of the military forces, but because of the understanding that both sides would make their position clear by tomorrow, the mill management was said to have decided not to force the issue by an attempt at reopening today.

Pawtucket, with several plants, operating in part, was as quiet as the inactive Pawtucket Valley mill towns to the south. Pickets appeared in the snow there, but beyond the lines of the military forces and without developing any instances of solicitation of working operatives that called for attention by the guards.

Mills Increase Operations

YOUNGSTOWN, O., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Several hundred of the thousands of idle steel workers here went back to work today with increased operations in the steel mills of this district. The Trumbull Steel Co. of Warren, resumed operations on a 100 per cent basis today.

Message To Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding plans to go to congress tomorrow and deliver his message on government aid to the American merchant marine. It was said today at the White House. The president worked on his message Saturday and again this forenoon, but was not able to complete it in time to deliver it to congress today.

Girls Held As Robber Suspects
CHICAGO, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Two girls and three men arrested early today by city detectives, were believed by them to be members of a band of robbers. One of the girls, who gave her name as Vera Drago, of Geneva, Ill., had a pistol in her possession, police said.

Morse Scorts Atty. General Daugherty

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Indictments against Charles W. Morse, New York ship builder, his three sons, Benjamin, Harry and Ervin, Celia H. Livingston, of Washington, president of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, and seven others were returned today by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the war time transactions of Morse and some of his associates with the shipping board.

Others named in the indictments as presented to the District of Columbia supreme court included R. O. White, of New York, former president of the United States Transport Company; George M. Boudette, of New York; R. M. Much, of Augusta, Maine; W. W. Scott, Washington attorney; L. A. Christie, of Alexandria, Va.; Nehemiah Campbell, of New York; and Philip Rhinehart, of Baltimore, former government auditor at the Virginia shipbuilding plant.

Two indictments were returned, one charging conspiracy to defraud the government and the other charging conspiracy to commit an offense against the government.

The conspiracy as charged by the government accuses those named of making false statements as to the value of their plant and assets and thereby obtaining loans from the shipping board. They are also charged with having secured money for ship building purposes and to have used the same for personal interests in the way of improving their plants. It is also alleged that large quantities of material for shipbuilding belonging to the emergency fleet corporation were secured and then sold and the money converted to the use of the alleged conspirators.

Those indicted either were or still are connected with the Groton Iron Works, Groton, Conn., the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, Alexandria, Va., or the United States.

No Insurance

MRS. SARAH ROBERTSON in jail at Dead, N. J. She reported that robbers had stolen jewels valued at $50,000. She is charged with faking the hold-up to collect insurance.

AMERICAN SHOT IN STREETS OF MOSCOW

MOSCOW, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—J. B. Murray, of Woburn, Massachusetts, connected with the American relief administration, suffered a slight flesh wound when fired upon in the street early yesterday. He was accompanied by a Mr. Callahan, of Fall River, Mass.

Whether the shot was fired by a highwayman or by street patrols who misinterpreted the actions of the Americans has not been determined. Murray and Callahan were homebound from a concert when they saw a slight ahead of them halted, the occupants with their hands in the air.

Thinking it was a hold-up and they would be the next victims, the Americans jumped from their sleigh and ran. Several shots were fired at them, one hitting Murray, who, however, was able to continue running and reached a nearby house where a crowd quickly gathered. Neither one understands Russian, but they succeeded in making the patrols who quickly arrived, understand that they were Americans and were assisted home. American relief administration employees familiar with Moscow are inclined to the theory that street patrols had halted the sleigh ahead of the Americans and fired at the Americans to stop them for investigation.

Spook May Be Wireless Phenomena

HALIFAX, N. S., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The proximity of radio stations is the latest explanation of Antigonish county "spooks," which have driven Alex Macdonald and family from home and baffled investigators. Fire underwriters are discussing suggestions that the mysterious fires have been due to electric phenomena, caused by the powerful wireless stations at Glace Bay. Several other families in Antigonish county are now reported to have been driven from their homes by mysterious fires during the last dozen years.

Inquiries received here indicate a small army of American newspaper men is preparing to follow Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, director of the American Institute for Scientific Research, who has accepted an invitation to undertake an investigation of the mystery.

Police Use Tear Bomb On Crooks
CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—Police used tear gas to get alleged gang of safe crackers from building.

Broker Missing; Victims Testify

MRS. LILLIAN N. DUKE, former wife of James B. Duke, the "Tobacco King," lost her entire fortune in investments. Other New York society women lost large sums with the same broker and police are now looking for him.

NEW YORK, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Eight witnesses were subpoenaed to go before the grand jury today and testify against Alfred A. Lindsay, former stock broker, charged by eleven men and women with having forced them out of more than $700,000 in bogus stock deals. Lindsay has been missing from his pretensions Nyack, N. Y., home for more than a month.

Among the witnesses called was Mrs. Lillian M. Duke, former wife of James B. Duke, millionaire tobacco manufacturer. She was one of the first women to bring the case of Lindsay to the attention of District Attorney Egan. She claimed she entrusted more than $400,000 to him for investment, and that the money disappeared. Miss Carlotta Nilsson, former actress, who also was summoned, has told the authorities that she gave Lindsay $200,000, most of her life's savings, for investment.

"America Must Stop Flood Of Illiteracy And Inferior Intelligence From Europe"

CHICAGO, February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—America must stop the flood of illiteracy and inferior intelligence from Europe, and admit only the foreigners who can strengthen our stock and ideals. Dr. Frank P. Graves, president of the University of the State of New York and state commissioner of education, said today before the department of superintendents, National Education Association.

"Next," he continued, "we must find some way to stop wholesale withdrawals from school. It is intolerable that thirty per cent of our young people should drop out before they are fourteen and sixty per cent before they have completed the eighth grade. Our compulsory attendance laws and the dragnets necessary to enforce them must be greatly strengthened in most of our states."

"In my judgment it would also be well for the school authorities to see how far the work of the school itself is to blame for the elimination. There is no doubt but that the introduction of the industrial element in the upper grades and the establishment of trade schools and technical high schools have secured great interest and enabled public education to reach large numbers."

"Serious also is the situation caused by our failure hitherto to select and properly educate the gifted among our young people who have, because of poverty, want of interest or other incident, dropped out of school early and gone to work. The selection and training for leadership in a democracy is the most important function to be performed by our public education. Unless we select and train our genius, society must slip back into barbarism."

Apologize For Theory Of Massacre

NELSON, B. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The Doukhobours of Canada, otherwise known as the Christian community of universal brotherhood, merely expressed a theoretical advocacy of massacre of their children and aged, according to the explanation now offered by Peter Veginin, president of the band, in a letter to the Daily News here. In his letter he expressed some alarm at the apparent indignation of Canadians over the announcement of the sect some days ago that the members were contemplating migration to escape taxation, in which event it might be found necessary to kill off children and aged persons who impeded the progress of the wanderers.

After apologizing to the Canadian public, particularly the women, the Doukhobour chief explained that the children of the colony are on the verge of starvation, being deprived of milk through the forced sale of cows in 1920 for the payment of taxes.

COLE MOTOR HEAD TRIES TO KILL WIFE AND SELF

MIAMI, FLA., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The lives of E. C. Frady, president of the Cole Motor Company, of Chicago, and his wife are hanging by a thread today, according to physicians at the hospital where they were taken yesterday after Mr. Frady's attempt to kill his wife and end his own life.

Mrs. Frady was shot three times by her husband, who then slashed his throat with a safety razor blade and a pen knife. No charge has been placed against Frady, but a deputy sheriff is stationed in the hospital and he is technically in custody awaiting the outcome of the wounds received by both.

The Fradys were stopping at the leading tourist hotel on the beach. Mrs. Frady arrived about six weeks ago, and he a month later. Other guests at the hotel say that Frady seemed to be unusually jealous, having been heard to scold his wife for accepting introductions to men.

Frady is said to have suffered a nervous breakdown several weeks ago and to have come to Miami to recuperate. Mrs. Frady, a sister of John H. Thompson, wealthy Chicago restaurateur, also came here for her health.

Killed When Train Hits Auto
CANTON, O., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Clarence Evans, 42, of Cleveland Heights, was killed last night at North Canton, when the auto in which he was riding was struck by a Canton-Akron interurban car. Five other occupants of the automobile escaped serious injury.

Provides For Animals

CHILLICOTHE, ILL., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Companions of his loneliness, his dog "Mickey" and his horse "Don" are amply provided for in the will of Joseph Carroll, of Chillicothe. It was disclosed today. The will directs that both animals be given the best care as long as they live, provision for them to be a lien upon his real estate. With this restriction the entire estate of $25,000 was left to his brother, George T. Carroll, of Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin.

Flee Flames By Ladders

WHEELING, W. VA., February 27.—Forty-seven boys escaped by ladder from the fifth floor of St. Johns industrial home at Elm Grove, a suburb, early today when fire destroyed the building with an estimated loss of $50,000. The boys were asleep and their escape cut off from the stairway when the alarm was sounded.

Tragedy In Miami

MIAMI, Fla.—Edgar C. Frady, Chicago, auto man, shot his wife properly fatally and cut his own throat. Both taken to hospital in critical condition.

THE TIMES WEATHER MAN

Folk ought to be convinced that certain so-called weather deposters are just talking to get into business by observing some of their prophecies in the past few months. Here's some genuine dope:

OHIO—Cloudy and colder tonight, except probably snow flurries in extreme east and north portions. Cold wave in northwest portion, Tuesday cloudy and colder.

KENTUCKY—Cloudy and colder tonight. Thursday unsettled and colder, probably followed by snow.

The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 19; low, 35.

Before You Invest Investigate

Many glowing offers of high rates of dividends, and a phenomenal increase in value of the principal are made to people to induce them to invest in so-called securities. Then later the investors find not only NO dividends forthcoming but even the principal greatly reduced in value if not a total loss. Find out what you are buying before you give the salesman your money. Don't take the salesman's word for it but have some disinterested party find out about it. Better investigate than be sorry.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe To Bring Back Color and Lustre To Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Miss Jennie Mae Jones will entertain the Westminister Circle of the Second Presbyterian church at its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at her home on Officers street. All money received from the dice and Valentines should be turned in at this meeting. Plans will be made for the play to be given some time in March.

Miss Emma Neudorfer will entertain the members of the Bethany Sunday School Class of the First Evangelical church tomorrow evening at her home on Third street.

Miss Thelma Oliver of Hunnewell, Ky., is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Oliver of Pine street, New Boston.

Mrs. Carrie Curry of Greenup is in a hospital in Ashland, where she is recovering from a surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Nelson of Columbus are visiting Portsmouth relatives and friends.

Oscar Fannin of Hillsboro, Ky., is visiting friends in South Portsmouth.

Mrs. Mary Aldridge and daughters, Dorothy and Thelma, of 2215 Eighth street, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hammond, of South Portsmouth.

Banks Seek Injunction

CHARLOTTE, N. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Trial of the suit brought by more than 200 North Carolina banks and trust companies for a permanent injunction restraining the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank from dishonoring checks drawn upon them for which a clearance fee is charged, opened today in Union county superior court at Monroe. A temporary injunction was granted by the court last spring after the clearance of checks at par despite an act of the state legislature authorizing the state bank to charge a clearance fee. The reserve bank, following the passage of the act, which it opposed, pointed out that it did not, require the state banks to charge exchange on checks, but merely permitted them to do so and that such a course was contrary to the fixed policy of the federal reserve system.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

To Hear Oral Arguments In Howat Cases

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—When it disposes of its opinions upon re-opening today after its usual February recess, the supreme court will hear oral arguments in cases brought by Alexander Howat and other organized labor leaders of Kansas held on contempt proceedings by the courts of that state.

The contempt proceedings originated with the refusal of Howat and his associates to appear before the court of industrial relations at Pittsburg, Kansas, March 29, 1920, and testify in an investigation of a controversy of employers and employees relating to working conditions in the coal mines of Cherokee and Crawford counties. The refusal was brought to the attention of the courts of Kansas and upon application of the attorney general of the state the Crawford county district court issued an order requiring them to appear before the court of industrial relations and testify.

Howat and his colleagues asserted they received no notice whatever of the order, and therefore were given no opportunity to appear. On the day the order was issued the attorney general in the state court, issuing the order filed an affidavit in which he charged Howat and his associates with contempt of the order and with conspiracy to violate it.

In behalf of the union miners' leaders, counsel denied all of the accusations and challenged the validity and constitutionality of the court of industrial relations. This question is now before the nation's highest court.

FACTS ABOUT STREET CARS

On June 1st, 1921, Council of the City of Portsmouth, passed a new Street Car Ordinance.

This action became necessary for the maintenance of our Street Car System, as the revenues received were so much less than the cost of operating the cars that without a substantial increase the service would have soon been stopped.

The action of The Portsmouth Council was ratified by New Boston Aug. 25th, 1921 and became effective Oct. 2nd, 1921.

What the public can expect to gain from the passage of this new ordinance is principally improved service, for which we believe all fair minded people are willing to pay a reasonable price.

To make improvements requires the expenditure of money, and for a public service company to raise money it becomes necessary to make application to the Public Utilities Commission for permission to issue stocks or bonds. This is a restriction placed on such companies by the State to prevent them from issuing stocks or bonds in excess of their capital assets, or in other words is a preventative for what is commonly called watered stock.

We went before the Public Utility Commission early in October and secured their approval in December to issue sufficient bonds to purchase six new cars, make the connection of the Third and Hill Top lines, and make much needed repairs to our power house.

After much careful investigation we placed an order with the Cincinnati Car Co., for six modern double truck cars to be delivered to us about the middle of May. These cars, by reason of many new features will greatly reduce the power consumption and effect other economies in operation which we hope will in time result in the company being able to make a reduction in fares.

We are limited by the new ordinance as to the return we can make on our investment, and any economies we can make in the operation will naturally go to the benefit of the car rider.

The car equipment we have is in need of general repairs, which have been deferred through lack of funds, to keep up this wear and tear. When the new cars are put in operation the company will be in position to overhaul the present cars at much less inconvenience to the public than would result if it were done now, when practically all the cars are used in the regular service. As soon as the new cars are received and put in service it is our purpose to make general repairs to the present equipment and get it all in first class shape.

We hope by Fall to have all the cars in good order, and to have the service much improved.

Much will depend on the number of passengers we carry as to future rates. We propose to do all we can to lower operating expenses, but there will be nothing gained thereby if the passengers are not carried.

We lost in travel last year, 1,800,000 passengers in comparison to the number carried in 1920, and operated the same number of cars. If the passengers carried in 1921 had been 900,000 more we would not be compelled to increase the fare March 1st. The public, we believe, is willing to pay a reasonable price for good service, and the condition today is nothing more than the effect of unreasonably low fares, that did not allow enough earnings to keep up ordinary repairs. What you see today is the result of several years losses.

Tonight and Tomorrow

Who runs this world anyway?

Masterful man, of course! And woman—well, some one must "feed the brute." Some one must smooth his mighty, care-worn brow.

But while man thinks he runs the world, the woman smiles, and—what she knows about him!

The Judgment

If man had instinct only, he would be like the beasts, and would not have to give an account of his conduct. Man has reason and free will. These two powers make him a reasonable being who will be judged according to his works. He will be judged twice, at the moment of death, and after the resurrection on the last day. The first is called the particular judgment, and is for each singly; the last, the general judgment will be for all men assembled on the last day. Thus the Justice of God will be shown to all men.

The Spring Apparel In Our Children's Store Is Unusually Appealing

With the arrival of numerous shipments during the past fortnight our Children's store swings into the spring season with as handsome assortments of apparel for children as the fondest parent could desire. This specialty shop catering as it does to the apparel needs of children, both boys and girls, from birth until 18 years of age, certainly renders a satisfactory service by saving the customer so much shopping around. Here, practically everything can be bought in one department.

Why Buy Your Boy's Suits Here?

Our Boys' Department, a little more than a year old, is making a place for itself in the buying plans of the thrifty mothers on its policy of better garments for the money. Everybody knows that while boys' clothing is usually carried in men's clothing stores, still it is always considered more or less of a side line with them and it is pretty hard for the men salesmen who are really more particular about selling men's clothing where more dollars and cents are concerned, to take as much interest in the line of boys' suits. It seems like the ordinary man, don't appreciate the peculiarities of the ordinary proud mother when she goes to select a suit for her boy. To them she is oftentimes far too particular and finicky.

We do not carry boys' garments as a side line. We feature them. We strive to give more value for the money and by actual comparison, we succeed. Furthermore, we have saleswomen in our Department and mothers generally are finding this Children's store an all around better place to buy their boys' suits.

Of course, we do not give premiums. If you want a sidewalk coaster for your boy, you can buy it in our Toy Department, but if you are interested in saving dollars on the purchase of your boys' apparel, you will certainly inspect our spring lines.

Boys' Kaynee Shirts And Blouses

These are the well made and well known Kaynee garments sold only at Andersons' and the colors are guaranteed. If you don't know shirt and blouse satisfaction, try our Kaynee spring line.

Boys' New Spring Caps

Every boy wants a new spring cap and here they are in a very attractive assortment priced at $1.00.

Our Children's Store Featuring New Attire For Girls

The girl's line, of course, is nothing new to our patrons for we have always been headquarters for this class of apparel, we simply wish to state here that the dainty frocks, smart capes, attractive hats, and apparel in general composing our new spring line for girls, is irresistible.

Girls School Dresses, $1.50 And Up

These sturdy gingham, will surely stand the strain of school and play days, and they come in many individual styles. Ages 6 to 14 years and priced $1.50 and up.

Mystery Still Cloaks Ashland Shooting

ASHLAND, Ky., Feb. 27.—Mystery still cloaks today the shooting and killing of John C. White, Jr., 26, oil well driller, of Prospect Place, more than 24 hours after his dead body was found in a pool of his own blood in the doorway of the insurance office of Phelps and Thompson, Fifth street and Carter avenue, yesterday morning.

No motive has been found by the police to substantiate either murder or suicide theories. No clues can be given by witnesses or members of the dead man's family. The mystery to day remains as much a puzzle as it did immediately following the discovery of the body.

Credence in the suicide theory cannot be given by the police, they say, for nothing has developed to show that White had any reason of any character to take his own life.

There seems to be no doubt, but that the young oil man was murdered, but on whom the deed shall be fixed has not been discovered by the police who have run down and found no truth in every clue offered them.

Working People

By special indulgence of the Holy See the bishop grants permission to hard working people and their families to take meat on any day of the year with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Wednesday of Holy Week, the fast days of Holy Saturday and the Vigil of Christmas.

Easter Duty

The time for complying with the obligation of making what is called "our Easter Duty" begins with the first Sunday of Lent and ends with Trinity Sunday.

Holy Days

When Holy Days of obligation fall on Friday there is neither fast nor abstinence.

Lenten Devotions

1. Lenten devotions are to be held on at least two evenings of every week, one evening an instruction is to be given, and on the other the Stations of the Cross are to be said, each devotion will close with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

2. The churches are to be kept open until a convenient time in the evening so as to give everybody a chance to make the Way of the Cross privately and pay a visit to the Blessed Sacrament.

3. Everything possible must be done to make it easy and convenient for the people to receive the Sacrament of Penance at any time during Lent.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat Too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic sleeplessness, rapid liver, acid stomach, indigestion and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in preventing kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

WANT TO KNOW.
Don't try to get him back, and don't have him if he wants to come back. A man who will insult you once will do it again. If he gets half a chance, so take my advice and keep away from him.

WHEELERSBURG, O.—Dear Miss Wise—Is there anything one can use to prevent wall paper from cracking and tearing loose around stores? The heat dries it and it tears loose, ruining the looks of the room. I am planning to put up new paper and will thank you very much if you can help me.

A SUBSCRIBER.
Paper put on with washing soda in the paste will not come off on greasy walls, as it often does without. Another way to make paper stay on walls is to go over the surface to be papered with a mixture like this: One pound of glue and one fourth pound of soap, dissolved in six quarts of scalding water. Let stand until like varnish and apply with a white-wash brush. Let it dry thoroughly and paper.

Dear Dolly—I know the wife of a good husband who is riding around with another man. I feel sorry for the husband and little children. I hope you will print this and maybe it will make a change in the wife.

AN OBSERVER.
This letter will not have any effect on the wife. When a woman becomes so bold that she will go with a man other than her husband, it will take more than a letter in this column to bring her to her senses.

Dear Dolly—I am a married woman and my husband is good to me and provides for me well, but every time his people come around, he will curse me in front of them. Dolly, what can I do to break him of this habit?

A WORRIED WIFE.
You can see to it that his people do not come around. Another way to break him of using bad words is to wash his mouth out with soft soap. Still another way is to tell him in plain English that you do not want him to use such language in your presence or in the presence of others. You can stop him if you want to. Now get busy and do it.

SOCIETY

Saturday evening, at their home on Third street, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore were congenial hosts and hostesses to several of their friends, entertaining with a Five Hundred party. The large living room was beautifully decorated with bowls of red carnations and potted plants. Three tables of cards were provided. Mrs. Albert Herms scoring highest. She was given a lovely corsage of roses and sweet peas, and in turn presented it to Mrs. Marion Prosch, who scored second highest. Mr. J. B. Koehleiser was given a deck of cards, as he scored high among the gentlemen present. Mrs. Bryson West and Mr. Ormsby Keesling were given the consolation favors.

At a late hour the guests were invited to the dining-room, where a delicious salad course was served. The long dining table was centered with a miniature beech tree surrounded with tiny red hatched. The favors were small red baskets filled with candies and nuts. Miniature American flags marked the places for the guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Koehleiser, Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Prosch, Mr. and Mrs. Ormsby Keesling, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herms, Mr. and Mrs. Bryson West and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Moore.

The Community Chorus will meet this evening at seven o'clock in the basement of the library. This will be the regular monthly social meeting to which everyone is invited. Every church choir will be welcome as guests of the Community Chorus. This evening will be devoted principally to fun and refreshments. Next Monday evening, however, it is requested that everyone who has a copy of "Gail's Holy City" bring it to the meeting, as some of the choruses will be rehearsed, so that they may be sung again the second Sunday in March in honor of Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Borg, who are leaving soon for their new home in Kansas City, Mo. It has been necessary to order extra copies of the "Elijah" to supply the increasing attendance of the weekly rehearsals. The chorus is bigger and better than it has ever been, and the interest manifest is most gratifying and inspiring. If there are any singers in the city who have not as yet joined the chorus, they are requested to come to the library this evening at seven o'clock. The object of the chorus is to develop new singers.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Church will give a social in the basement of the church this evening for the pleasure of the members of groups from one to eight and their families. The Sunday School orchestra under the direction of Miss Alice Blake will furnish the music and a general good time is promised all who attend.

Tomorrow evening Groups from Nine to Fifteen and their families will be entertained at the same place. Plans are being made by the entertainment committee for a splendid impromptu program each evening.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Chattering monkeys!" he shrieked, gnashing his teeth in rage. "I'll have to go back to my cave."

HE dragon (Twelve Toes the Sorcerer he was, really) hadn't gone far when he remembered although he had stolen all the magic of the Twins, he had forgotten the chocolate cake. And it was very important that he take it, along.

He was just about to start up the first of the Seven Mountains, which was made of rubber, when he remembered it.

"Chattering monkeys!" he shrieked, gnashing his teeth in rage. "I'll have to go back to my cave," where I left those stupid children. Well, with these Magic Green Shoes on my feet it won't take long.

So back he whisked. There lay the chocolate cake just where he had placed it to entice the children into his cave, on a little wooden table that was covered with a white napkin.

"Well, well!" said Twelve Toes in a quandry. "I can't carry a chocolate cake in this form. I need one of my front feet for carrying the magic paper and the red feather pen (as I have no pockets). And I need my other three feet for walking."

"I'll have to change myself into—"

Just what he was going to say we'll never know, my dears, because something happened at that very minute.

The red feather shot out of his great horny claw like an arrow out of a tightly drawn bow and made straight for the inside of the great dark cave where poor Nancy and Nick were still scrubbing at the sticky spots on the floor.

It flew right for the Cloth of Dreams Nick clutched in his hand, and instantly the cloth fell to the floor. Then turning it flew to Nancy and tore the cloth from her hand also.

The Twins stood up and rubbed their eyes. "Wh—Where are we?" they stammered, getting up to their feet. "Why is it so dark, and where have we been?"

Mrs. Louis Levi was a most gracious hostess this afternoon when she entertained with four tables of bridge at her attractive home on Twenty-first street, honoring two charming young matrons who are visitors in the city, Mrs. David Lasky (Norma Mayer) of Charleston, guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvo Mayer of Fourth street, and Mrs. Milton Weiss, (Doris Lehman) of Cincinnati, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Lehman of Second street. The card tables were attractively arranged in the large living room and bridge was the pleasant diversion. In the first count the lady securing the highest was presented with a handsome trophy. A consolation prize was awarded for low score. At the close of the games a delicious salad course was served at the small tables.

Mrs. Stella Eggers Vanbiber is recovering nicely from the effects of a serious operation which she underwent two weeks ago in the Marting Hospital in Ironton. Her husband, Maurice Vanbiber, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eggers and brothers, Denver and Ellis Eggers, were present at the operation. Her mother is still at her bedside.

Mrs. E. C. McCoy of Lincoln street has returned from a week's visit with her uncle, Mr. C. R. Berry, of Avondale, Cincinnati.

Sam Roth of Cincinnati is visiting his son, Louis Roth, manager of the Liberty Clothing Company.

Mr. Plant Thompson of Huntington, W. Va., spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. Ray Thompson, of 718 Third street.

Mrs. U. H. Stallard, 1517 Franklin avenue, delightfully entertained a circle of friends at her home on Saturday afternoon. Cards were the diversion of the afternoon, the token for the highest score was awarded to Mrs. Adam Buch; Mrs. John C. McMahon having the second highest score, while Mrs. George M. Osborne was given the consolation prize.

At five o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room where an appetizing plate lunch was served to the following: Mrs. W. J. Burke, Mrs. Adam Buch, Mrs. Howard Graham, Mrs. William F. Maier, Mrs. John W. Snyder, Mrs. A. J. Wellman, Mrs. Louise Balmert, Mrs. John Arnold, Mrs. J. N. Ellison, Mrs. John McMahon, Mrs. T. G. McCormick and Mrs. Geo. M. Osborne.

Incendiary Who Kindles Disastrous Fire Shoots One Of His Pursuers

Janus and contents and stock valued at $10,000 were wiped out by fire that visited the G. H. Distardick farm, two miles south of Powellville Sunday morning, and in the chase for the man believed guilty of setting the barn afire, William Hughes, a deputy constable from near Ohio Furnace, suffered a bullet wound on the back of his left hand, the man sought firing on the officers when they came close to his place of hiding in the hills Sunday afternoon. The men who joined in the search for the felon were unsuccessful in capturing him, although they were hot on his trail most of the day.

Mr. Distardick says his damage is only partially covered as he carried about $6,000 worth of insurance.

The big barn, completed only last year, was 106 feet long and 36 feet wide. Two "L's," a straw barn and tobacco barn, were 30 feet by 42 feet, giving the farm one of the best barns in this section of the state.

Mr. Distardick's home is only about 100 yards from the barn and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Distardick, reside about 200 yards away. The father has been ill for sometime and is unable to sleep at nights. He discovered the fire and awakened his wife, who called her son by telephone and told him of the fire. Mr. Distardick's bedroom is on the side of his home farthest from the fire, and this prevented him from seeing it. Mr. Distardick awakened his son Floyd, and both hastened to the burning barn, clad only in their night clothes. They went direct to that section of the barn where the horses were kept. Mr. Distardick went into a manger and found that a horse always kept there had broken away from the manger and had gone into another part of the stable. By that time he was almost overcome with smoke and had to retreat, calling to his son to save his own life and let

Piketon Mayor Changes Mind; Gives Up Gun

WAVERLY, Feb. 27—Now the advantage is with the Waverly deputy marshals, Elmer Farmer and Charles Kuapp in their contest with Mayor Grant Bateman of Piketon, to see which is the most law-abiding. These two officers had been arrested and bound over to the grand jury Saturday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The charge was brought against them by George Bateman, son of Mayor Bateman, on the theory that the Waverly officials had not given proper bond and therefore were not qualified officers.

Now following this, Farmer and Kuapp called on Solicitor Charles M. Caldwell, who assures them that they have been properly bonded and are therefore honest to goodness officers. Mr. Caldwell also informed Prosecuting Attorney Levi B. Moore that he has approved bonds of the two officers.

Officer Farmer was very anxious for the return of his .38 revolver, which he says he had been relieved of by Constable Dudley Markham, of Piketon, who seized the warrant on Farmer earlier in the day. Prosecuting Attorney Moore wrote a letter to Mayor Bateman demanding the return of the gun. Farmer took the letter and rode to Piketon only to be met with a flat refusal by his honor, he says.

In the city and notified Sheriff E. E. Hickey of the fire. While here he said that he loved his stock and that he hated to lose the horses and cows more than anything else. He had one team of horses that cost over $500.

He is the father-in-law of John Willis of the Security Bank.

However, later in the day the mayor changed his mind and sent his son up with the "gat."

The next move will be the trial of the Batemans in Mayor Smith's court Thursday.

The stock take care of itself. They then carried buckets of water and soaked a corn crib and grainary about 150 feet from the stable to prevent it catching fire. The fact that the wind was blowing in an opposite direction from the corn crib saved it according to Mr. Distardick.

By this time the neighboring farmers arrived and Mr. Distardick and son were prevailed upon to go into the house and get some heavy clothing on. Today both have heavy colds as the result of running about in the open and carrying water for about an hour.

The fire was discovered between one and two o'clock and within an hour the big barn and its contents had been reduced to ashes, the hay and straw burning most of Sunday.

In the barn were four head of horses, five cows, two calves, a tractor, new Ford touring car, new corn husker, two horse express wagon, buggy, tobacco seeder and transplanter, binder, two mowing machines, three double horse cultivators, lime spreader, grain drill, breaking plow, two horse corn planter, many small farming tools, 5,000 pounds of tobacco, 20 ton of hay, many tons of straw, cowpods, shredded fodder, and 15,000 saved tobacco stalks.

When Mr. Distardick first arrived at the barn he says "the" worst fire seemed to be in the tobacco barn, which was about ready to fall in, the fire having gotten a good start before it was discovered.

After the flames had destroyed the barn, farmers looked about to determine the cause of the fire and found some footprints in the new field. Lawrence Fitch of New Boston was called and he took his bloodhound to the scene about 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Some time was lost in getting Constable Columbus Porter of Ohio Furnace to the fire scene. He brought with him as deputies William Hughes, Earl Means and George Webb.

The bloodhound picked up the trail in the field near the destroyed barn and soon left the field and went to the road. About 100 yards from the destroyed barn one band of tobacco was found. The trail was then followed for over two miles the trail being sometimes on the road and then on the hillside. After passing the Hush farm the dog started up a hollow on the former Mike Martin farm across the Scioto county line. Going up the hollow the dog went direct to a log cabin near the head of the hollow, entered the cabin and went to a bed in the small structure. A fire was in the stove and dirty dishes were on the table. In an effort to pick up another trail outside the house the dog was started several times but each time returned to the cabin.

Constable Porter stationed Hughes and Means on the hillside to watch the cabin while the remainder of the party returned to get a search warrant from Squire Jacob Apel at Powellville.

It was early Sunday afternoon when the constable returned to the cabin and again took up the chase. Hughes and Means followed an old road down the hollow while Constable Porter went the other way. The first two named men had traveled down the hollow about 200 yards when a man jumped out from behind some bushes and opened fire on them. Several shots were fired but only one found a mark, this being the one that cut a flesh wound on the back of Hughes' left hand.

Hughes pulled his revolver and fired five times. The fleeing man fell and Hughes exclaimed that he got him. As they took several steps toward him, however, he jumped to his feet and soon disappeared from view in the bushes.

All efforts to pick up his trail failed.

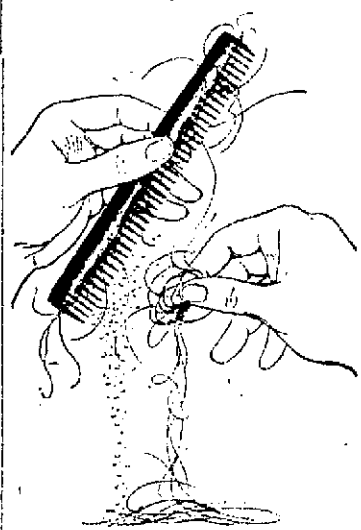

Constable Porter had the search warrant made out for a man named Kirk as he had been informed that such a man from West Virginia had moved into the log cabin about two months ago. Sunday evening Piketon and Lawrence county officials were notified to watch the ferry landing there as it was thought the man would attempt to get back to West Virginia.

Sunday afternoon officers made a complete search of the cabin and vicinity. Near the cabin, nearly hid by a big piece of canvas, were barrels of mice were found. Bottles and other paraphernalia were found but no still could be located. The theory was advanced that the man had been sleeping tobacco to color his moonshine and that he had accidentally set the barn on fire.

Mr. Distardick has many friends in Portsmouth who will be sorry to hear of his big loss. Today he was

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY OBSERVED; BIG SUCCESS

Six state Sunday school specialists were in the city Sunday to help in the churches and Sabbath schools observe Sunday school day.

The out-of-town speakers were J. M. Small of Wilmington, L. B. Edgar of Columbus, Maxwell Hall of Marietta, A. T. Arnold, Columbus, Water C. Moore and J. O. Doolittle of Columbus. These six men spoke in the various Sunday schools and churches during the morning and evening.

In the afternoon a mass meeting of Sunday school institute was held in the General Brethren church.

A general meeting was held first in the church auditorium. There was good attendance, a couple of hundred leaders and workers in Sabbath school work being present.

Mr. Arnold, general secretary of the Ohio State Sunday School Association addressed the mass meeting telling the men and women present of the great merger of Sunday school workers that took place just recently in Chicago. At the Chicago meeting the interdenominational forces and denominational organizations planned to work together instead of as two distinct organizations.

After this meeting four group meetings were held with Mr. Hall addressing the group interested in children's work. Mr. Moore talked to the group interested in young peoples work. He is superintendent of young peoples work in Ohio.

L. B. Edgar addressed the group interested in adult departments. Mr. Arnold addressed those interested in administrative work.

Mrs. Davis Better

Mrs. J. Frost Davis, who was operated upon in Schirman hospital was reported as doing as well as could be expected Monday. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Tied For Drunkenness

Students Guard College From "Fire Bug"

HARTFORD, CONN., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Thirty students, working in four shifts, are watching the Trinity college buildings day and night, because of incendiary fires. They are armed with searchlights at night and have been ordered to keep a special vigilance over Scoville Hall, where three professors and their wives reside. The student patrols also have been ordered to refrain from putting their hands on surfaces in case of another fire in order that finger prints may not be identified.

The Tripod, Trinity weekly publication has suspended temporarily. Its editor in chief stated that its editors and reporters were unable to stay up all night doing guard duty and also write copy.

Bound For Hollywood

MIDDLETOWN, O., Feb. 27.—(By Associated Press)—Hollywood and the movies were the lure that attracted Harry Diles and Albert Kretschmer, each 13 years old, from their homes at Reading, Pa., according to the story told by the boys after they were picked up in a railroad yard yesterday by police.

And the young wanderers were decidedly in favor of continuing on their journey until their parents, who had not heard from three plates in search for them, unexpectedly walked into police headquarters and came upon the object of their quest. The parents said that they had been in Dayton and came to Middletown on the wild hope that they might find their sons. All returned to Reading.

Arrested Following Girl's Charge

William Porter, 21, of Harrisonville avenue, New Boston, was arrested by New Boston officers Sunday evening on serious charges, the warrant for the arrest being signed by Mabel Lee, 15 year old daughter of William Lee, of Rhodes avenue, New Boston.

When the girl returned to her home late Sunday afternoon and told her parents about the actions of Porter whom she was with in Milldale hollow Sunday afternoon they took her before Mayor William Newberry where she again told her story and signed a warrant against Porter.

According to Mayor Newberry the girl met Porter at Gallia and Harrisonville avenue Sunday afternoon and he suggested a walk up Milldale hollow back of New Boston. She claimed he attempted to take liberties with her and that she fought him before he would let her go.

Porter was found on a New Boston street shortly after the warrant was issued and he was placed in a cell in the village jail.

This morning in Mayor Newberry's court Porter entered a plea of not guilty and he was held to the grand jury on a $500 bond. He was in jail this afternoon, being unable to raise the necessary $500.

DEATH CLAIMS FATHER JOHN MEADE

Rev. John Meade, for more than 30 years the beloved pastor of St. Paul and St. Peter's churches in Wellston, died Sunday in a Zanesville hospital, where he had been receiving treatment. He had been in poor health for some time, but the news of his passing away will be received here as a shock. Complications caused death.

The funeral services will be held in Wellston Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and mass will be read by Rev. J. E. McGinnis of this city. He received word today from Rt. Rev. Bishop Hartley of Columbus to take charge of Father Meade's last rites Thursday morning. Interment will be in the Wellston cemetery.

Father Meade, who was about 65 years old, had frequently assisted Father McGinnis with services in the Holy Redeemer church. He was a brilliant orator and scholar and his death is a distinct loss to this Diocese. He was loved by almost every man, woman and child in Wellston, where the news of his passing away spread a pall of gloom over that city.

Father Meade was kind, charitable and will be missed. He was devoted to the priesthood and was regarded as one of the most popular priests in Southern Ohio. His funeral no doubt will be one of the largest ever held in Wellston.

Conklin Made Defendant

Alvin Conklin, a well known shoe worker, is made defendant in a suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their two minor children, instituted in Common Pleas court Monday by Marie Conklin, 1329 Ninth street.

In her petition filed through Attorney Mark Crawford the plaintiff claims that within a short time after her marriage to the defendant in September 1910 he began and has continued ever since a course of habitual drunkenness, asserting that he is still a heavy drinker. In 1913 on account of the defendant's excessive use of liquor life became so unbearable that she was forced to leave Conklin, the wife says, but returned to him upon his promise to refrain from such conduct and continued the married relations with him until Feb. 21, 1922, when she declares she was again forced to leave him.

The wife says the defendant is the owner of the property at Tenth street in which they live and which she claims was bought through their joint efforts and asks that she be given his interest in the premises as alimony. She secured a temporary injunction preventing the defendant from interfering with her in the custody of their children and possession of the property, including the household goods and furniture.

'Poison Phone' Calls Made By Girls

CINCINNATI, O., February 27.—(By the Associated Press)—What action to take, if any, against two girls who were disclosed by a private detective agency as the persons responsible for numerous recent "poison phone" calls, was being considered by Chief Officer A. C. Crouse, of the juvenile court today.

The girls are 14 and 16, respectively. From their homes' phone' calls came, which, in the past few days, have been the cause of sorrow in the hearts of wives as the results of unfounded accusations against husbands.

The thoughtless pranks of the two girls brought a number of couples to the brink of divorce. Not only did they impart over the telephone to horrified wives false information concerning husbands, but they also directed undertakers to take their paraphernalia to residences.

Friends of McKinley Sauer, formerly of this city and Wheelersburg, will be interested in the following announcement of his engagement which appeared in Saturday's Athens (O.) Messenger:

"Once more Athens county is feeling cold blasts from the Far North after a brief touch of ideal spring weather, which brought with it mystic, romantic and affectionate atmosphere, filled with the promise of opening buds and stirring deeply pent-up emotions in many a heart."

"Although the succeeding colder weather may have chilled the ardor of some, caused temporary abandonment of thoughts of spring flora, and froze up the romance that welled in many, nevertheless the zephyrs that fled before the onslaughts of the North Wind, retreated with the satisfaction of knowing that their brief visit was not without results."

"During the first of that enchanting weather, The Messenger Watch Dog was seized with a great discontent, dissatisfaction and general disability, which he assigned at first to spring fever. He soon realized, however, that his first diagnosis of his trouble was not correct and as he aimlessly and absent-mindedly wandered about the streets of Athens he sought the solution of his malady."

"Contemplating the aloof loneliness of his friend, who stands at the courthouse corner 365 days of the year, the great light dawned upon him."

"Ah! he exclaimed in rapture. 'It is true that man should not live to himself alone.'"

"All this is apropos to announcing the engagement of McKinley Sauer The Messenger Watch Dog to Miss Edith Kasper, who resides on Lancaster street and who attends Ohio University. Sauer, whose observations, comments and philosophy on life in four counties is eagerly read, has taken an option on the hand, heart and affections of Miss Kasper. To him and Miss Kasper The Messenger extends its most cordial congratulations in announcing the engagement of the husband, but might proud Messenger Watch Dog."

"Altha the happy event will not be one of the immediate future. Mack's Messenger associates could not withstand the temptation to make the announcement today, especially since he has been so faithful in 'writing up' the rest of the force."

The recent debate in the Home League about the benefit of moving pictures was not decided. No judges were appointed and the vote of the members was only on the question that there is or is not some benefit in moving pictures and not on the merits of the real debate."

CORNELIA TREUTHART
A delightful surprise birthday party was given Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. on Willard Benjamin at his home, 1228 North Kendall avenue. The party was given by his wife and mother. "WHOLE FAMILY DAY" IS BIG SUCCESS

One of the really fine days, one of the great big days, one filled with the spirit of fellowship, and worship, when everybody was glad to see everybody else enjoying life, and happy.

occurred at First Christian Bible school yesterday morning when "Whole Family Day" was celebrated. It was a bigger thing than the officers of the big school had contemplated, and their proposal to present a carnation to the wife or mother of every one hundred per cent family present brought out a big surprise when they took the count and found that more than one hundred families had all their households present and the women folk readily claimed the carnated flower. It was disappointing when the officers found that the one hundred carnations they had on hand were insufficient to go round and there were a very few folks who were entitled to the flower but were missed. They took this in the right spirit knowing that it was no fault of the school but just a case of shortage of flowers.

Another feature that brought forth much comment and caused some surprise was when the count for the largest one hundred per cent family came and it was found that the one to whom this honor went was C. L. Warren and wife, who have six children and Orin Collins, florist, presented them with a basket of roses. His closest competitor was Charles Meyers whose family numbered seven and they were all there.

It was a real flower Sunday and those who failed to get a flower at the Bible school caught the spirit and most of them bloomed out at the evening service.

RAIDS RESULT IN THREE ARRESTS

IRONTON, Feb. 27.—Sheriff De-ment, Deputy Sheriff Mat Wilson and Constable Eskins conducted a very fruitful raid in the vicinity of Lawrence Furnace and confiscated six gallons of moonshine, three hundred gallons of wash and one complete still, made of a copper wash boiler. The officers found three pints of liquor at the home of Jake Bridges along with about 10 gallons of wash. They then proceeded to the establishment of Earl Summers and found 70 gallons of wash in a whiskey. At the home of John Henry Collins they found a distilling outfit but Mr. Collins explained that his boy was making the liquor in his home. His son Lewis Collins, lives on the Furnace grade but had been making the liquor at his father's place. The officers after confiscating all the evidence returned to town and placed Lewis Collins, Jake Bridges and Earl Summers in the county jail to await the hearing on their charges.

NEWS FROM NEARBY TOWNS

JACKSON

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Walker returned to West Virginia Saturday after a week's stay at their home here.

The Friday Night Club enjoyed a splendid meeting on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. James Morgan and Mrs. Morgan at their home on South street with twenty-six present. The subject for discussion was "Is the Public School System Efficient?"

Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. James Jerrett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krantz and Mr. and Mrs. Novell. Light refreshments were served at the close of the interesting discussion of the subject of the evening.

Relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride witnessed the marriage on Wednesday evening of Miss Viola Mary Dever and Mr. Philip Chapman of Springfield at the home of Mrs. Lincoln Dever, the grandmother of the bride.

Chapman is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dever, was reared in Jackson and graduated from the local high school last spring. After graduating she went to Springfield to accept a position and there she met Mr. Chapman. Rev. W. H. Mitchell of the M. E. church officiated, the bride being connected with that church and was a teacher in the Sunday school before going to Springfield. She wore her grandmother's dress and was attended by her brother, Henry Dever, and an intimate friend, Miss Margaret Poelker. After the ceremony the hostess invited the party to the dining room where a fine supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman left the next day for their home in Springfield.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harbarger of Main street, entertained their card club on Tuesday evening with an elaborate spread. Those partaking of it were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClung, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McGhee, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Spangler, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McClung and Mrs. J. W. Dever.

Those who enjoyed the afternoon and club with Mrs. Ora Evans on Thursday preceded by a luncheon at one o'clock, were Mesdames Richard Carter, W. C. Clear, A. L. Ervin, Eva Evans, H. E. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bragg were Columbus visitors on Wednesday.

Miss Ethel Henson was a visitor with Oak Hill on Wednesday and was present at the birthday party of her niece, Martha Evelyn Henson.

One hundred and ninety-six Christian Endeavor members sat down to the elaborate supper held in the parlors of the Presbyterian church Friday evening. It was a union affair, with representatives from the societies of the Presbyterian, Welsh, United Brethren and Christian

DOMESTIC SCIENCE
TEACHER GIVES TIP

Mattie Lee Wehrly
Miss Mattie Lee Wehrly lives at 806 South Sixth street, Louisville, Ky. She is a teacher of domestic science as well as a writer of articles for large newspapers and magazines.

In all of the handy hints she has given to housewives throughout the country no tip is more valuable than the one in which she advises people to take Peppen, if they are troubled with stomach, kidney or liver ills.

"If you suffer with indigestion, dizziness, headaches, constipation, pains in the back or an uncomfortable bloated feeling after eating, you had better go to the drug store where name appears below and obtain a bottle of Peppen."

The symptoms described above often come from a disordered stomach, kidneys or liver. The longer you allow your ailments to remain unchecked, the longer it will take to treat them. Start taking Peppen at once. In a few days you will feel like another person.

"In my occupation as teacher of cooking I am frequently called upon by scholars in my class to taste various foods they prepare," says Miss Wehrly. "This continual taking of bites had its harmful effect upon my system. About one year ago I began to have indigestion, and then came tired, worn-out feelings. My complexion became sallow."

"I lost my appetite and began losing weight. I realized that I needed a good tonic. So many people in my home city were recommending Peppen that I tried it. Peppen relieved me. I am no longer affected by formations of gas on my stomach, even when I eat foods that are hard to digest. I have a very high opinion of Peppen. I am pleased to recommend it whenever opportunity offers."

Peppen may be obtained in Portsmouth at the Fisher and Streich Pharmacy and at other first class pharmacies.

churches of the city. The menu consisted of escalloped chicken, browned potatoes, creamed peas, shaw, hot rolls, pie a la mode and coffee. The rolls were donated by Elton Ridge, way of the New System Bakery and were greatly appreciated. The tables and room decorations were red and white, the State of E. colors, and presented a gala appearance. Twenty ladies from the various churches waited on the guests. A short program was held at the supper table. The afternoon session was largely devoted to business. An organization was effected of the four societies, with plans for union monthly meetings. The evening session opened with a half hour song service, with a good crowd in attendance. This was followed by speeches from State Field Secretary Frank L. Freet and his associates.

Better Be Courteous Than Wish You Had
You don't let somebody else do the picking of a doctor; you select him yourself after inquiring among your friends; you want a doctor of standing in the community; you are careful to personally satisfy yourself that he is the man to whom you can entrust your health, possibly even your life.

Did it ever occur to you that the prescription that the doctor gives you to be filled is equally important. In fact, it is the doctor's proxy, always on the job while the doctor is busy elsewhere. So, it must be absolutely reliable, must be just what the doctor wants, and is even more vitally important than the food you eat, because the doctor relies upon this prescription to help nature correct the temporary ailment or derangement.

So, the man responsible for the prescription must be right. We point with pride to our prescription department. It is carefully arranged for quick service and away from the bustle and noise of the store. It is in charge of a thoroughly experienced registered pharmacist who is fully awake to his responsibilities and obligations. Each prescription is a special study for a specific purpose.

This registered pharmacist has able to his science the newest and best drugs and chemicals within his reach as well as the equipment to mix and blend these drugs in the right proportions.

FIELDING TO PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN WINNING THIS YEAR'S PENNANT, SAYS YANK MANAGER

Teams Must Have Airtight Infields To Cop The Bunting

P. H. S. VS SCIOTOVILLE WEDNESDAY

Coach Dan Fries and the P. H. S. basketball quintet returned via Chillicothe Sunday from Athens where P. H. S. was eliminated in the second round of the southeastern Ohio high school championship tournament.

The locals were not downcast over their defeat for it was the fast Columbus Aquinas team that put them out of the running. The class and calibre of the Aquinas five may be doubted when it is known they fought it out with Athens high for the championship Saturday evening.

The P. H. S. five will get down to practice this afternoon and besides stiff workouts today and tomorrow will hold a light practice Wednesday afternoon in order to be in the best possible shape for the battle with Sciotoville on the P. H. S. floor Wednesday night.

The Sciotoville five will receive all the door receipts, no season tickets being good for admission. The game will start at seven o'clock on account of the high school minstrel.

Bowling Congress Will Open Tonight

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 27.—With thirty-two Toledo teams in action, the twenty-second annual American Bowling Congress tournament will get under way here tonight for the fourth time within the last ten years.

Attending the opening will be John T. Smith, of Buffalo, president of the American Bowling Congress, A. J. Langley, secretary and other officials.

Sixteen prominent Toledoans will roll the first ball down the sixteen alleys after Mayor Bernard P. Brough has presented the alleys to the tournament committee and A. B. C. officials.

The tournament will end on April 1. During that time 1126 five-man teams are scheduled to roll. Toledo's first tournament was held in 1913, with a total entry of 504 teams. Three years later 756 teams lined up. In 1919 the entry list totaled 790.

Wilce Says Football Is College Sport

BY J. W. WILCE

Football Coach, Ohio State University

Summer baseball is really the only problem that confronts the "Big Ten" in the west.

Whether it would be wise to permit a college athlete to play baseball for pay during the summer is a matter to be determined.

Football is essentially a college sport. Educational ideals and professional ideals in sport are not the same.

Wholesome nonprofessional football for as many as possible will continue to be encouraged.

There will always be a commercial temptation for the star college athlete from unscrupulous promoters.

Commercialization will prevent absolute perfection of ideal individual cases from time to time.

Eternal vigilance by coaches, faculty and alumni is the only effective way of combating the present conditions that exist in college athletics.

Faculty-controlled athletics in colleges will maintain comparative ideals in spite of difficulty. Conferences are the practical solution of most difficulties. Colleges will form conferences and seek their own level in the matter of enforcing standards.

Secret breaking of rules of any game in life cannot be entirely eradicated. Individual cases will be punished from time to time, proving to the athletes the need of observance of rules.

There is no need of hysteria. The freshness and co-operative spirit of American football cannot be professionalized.

The standards at most western colleges are fairly well agreed on. The enforcement of these standards and not continued agitation is the real need.

SELECTS ARE HOME WITH STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Captain Jude Baerman and his Selects arrived home Sunday from Columbus, where on Saturday afternoon they won the state amateur independent championship from the Newark Heisers, by a score of 20 to 20.

Former, who plays guard brought the championship to Portsmouth when in the last forty seconds of play with the Heisers leading, 20 to 28, he shot a basket from the middle of the floor. That shot took the pins out from under the Heisers who died game, fighting up to the last shot.

The Heisers represent the big glass works at Newark. They have a team that averages about 150 pounds while the Selects average about 140 or less.

The Heisers are men who have played the game for some years while the Selects have a much lighter team and not as much experience.

The Selects played on a small floor

Friday and on Saturday when they played Tigra shifted to a floor twice the size of the local high school gym.

Saturday afternoon they went back to the small gym, the constant changing of floors making it difficult for the teams.

The Heisers were confident of taking home the championship after they had easily defeated other teams in the tournament. They did not count on the Selects cutting much ice on aCS court in the title match, but they found out in the title match that the smallness of the Selects was a big help in many instances. Both teams used the five man defense and many times

Edwards and Doll slipped through to shoot a basket. On account of the five man defense both teams had to resort to a number of long shots.

The Selects play in Indianapolis,

March 4, for the central states championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hunt

(Myrtle Copeland) announce the arrival of a daughter born Sunday.

The little miss has been named Virginia Rose.

The Ironing News of local interest says:

"A son was born yesterday to Mr.

and Mrs. John B. Corns yesterday.

This is the second birth of the Editor of the Register, and it is useless to say that J. B. with the assistance

Batter hits ball which first strikes

the ground about a yard in front of the batter, midway between first and home. It then bounds into fair territory and eludes the first baseman who tries to field it, the ball going into right field. When it passes first base it is a foot inside the leg on first base and reaches it safely. Is it a fair or foul ball?

It is a fair ball. The fact that it first struck the ground in foul territory makes no difference since no one touched the ball while it was in foul ground. The fact that it was in fair territory when it passed first base makes it a fair ball.

high school fives returned Sunday from Athens where they took part in the first round of the southeastern high school tournament. Both teams were eliminated in the first contest

the while New Boston was beaten by Shawnee a school that always has a strong floor squad. Shawnee was put out of the tourney by the fast

Aquinas five.

Anticipate One

Swell Crowd

Battery B boys claim their boxing show next Friday night in the Winter Garden will draw the banner crowd of the season. They say there is class to it through and through and they will make arrangements to care for a large and enthusiastic throng of fans.

Keep Eye On Him

So our old friend Harry McGlothlin is going to enter the fight game. He should make a likely looking heavyweight and he will be heard from or we will miss our guess. He says he will be all set for his Cincinnati opponent in the Winter Garden Friday night.

40 TO REPORT

Manager Ty Cobb of the Detroit

Tigers is going to look over a big back of players this Spring. He has ordered 40 players to report in their training camp.

Clarke To Coach

Fred Clarke, former Pirate leader, has consented to coach the baseball candidates at the University of Kansas. He just cannot keep away from the game.

LEFT EARFUL

Of marks from fistie battles he has surely taken lots.

And so we ask you would you call his scarrings poke-a-nuts?

Gun Thrust In Weinberg's Face; Wife Screams And Gunman Takes To His Heels

"Stick up your hands, and get 'em up quick!" a stern voice sang out, and a big gat glinted in John Weinberg's face when he started to put his machine in the garage in the rear of his home on Fourteenth street last night.

Mrs. Weinberg was with him, and when she screamed the would-be highwayman, who had concealed himself behind a wagon near the Weinbergs' garage, took to his heels and ran away.

"Gee, but that was a close call,"

Monday.

MRS. ASQUITH'S ERROR

MRS. Asquith, who has come to America to lecture, says this is not really the free country she had been led to believe it was. She has been disillusioned. Just a single little incident has caused her to change her opinion. She was standing in the wings of a Philadelphia theatre the other day, waiting to go on the stage, and lit a cigarette. A stage employe called her attention to a sign reading: "No Smoking" and she was compelled to obey. In England, she says, "a woman may smoke or do anything she pleases."

Some women may, and some men, also. Not all. When Mrs. Asquith's husband was prime minister his carriage or automobile had right of way over other traffic and all pedestrians in London, a privilege enjoyed in common with other cabinet ministers, members of royalty and the archbishop of Canterbury. But less exalted folk had to halt while these vehicles of the mighty swept regally by. For them it was not such a "free" country. The spacious Hyde Park in London is too "sacred" ground for the admission of hired vehicles. One may not engage a taxicab and take a ride over its principal roads. They are reserved for private equities. The particular "No Smoking" sign which incurred Mrs. Asquith's displeasure in Philadelphia applied to both sexes. It was in accord with the laws for the prevention of fire.

Some persons have startling conceptions of the meaning of the word "free." They fail to realize that by restricting the freedom of a few careless persons to do as they like the freedom of the majority from accident or disease is assured. It is to be hoped Mrs. Asquith is not going to be one of those visitors who come here and object to everything American except our dollars.

PLEASANT INFORMATION

LOUIS LOUCHER, former minister of liberated regions, declares in public speech, that France will never pay back to the United States the money loaned her during the war, not counting the accumulated and accumulating interest. Not that France wishes to repudiate, not at all, for she is perfectly willing to pay, but utterly unable now and will always be hereafter.

That's cheerful and cheering intelligence, to be sure. It is a bit puzzling, however, to dovetail it into Monsieur Loucher's quickly following announcement that Germany will pay her indemnity, pay every cent of it. Germany owes the allies forty billions, France owes us three billion. How does the gentleman figure Germany can pay 33 times more than France owes, when France can't pay so much as a franc? Is it because in one instance he is against paying and in the other for payment; or has he discovered a means of extracting blood from one turnip, but will not unfold it when it comes to another turnip? Monsieur Loucher talks like a politician of the American species, not what he believes, but as he would have.

The French are the most intelligently industrious and thrifty on earth. Their government has always discharged its liabilities and they will see that it does not become remiss when the creditor is their great and good friend, America.

THE INADEQUACY OF THE LAW

THEY put men to death for murder—sometimes. Mob men and lynch villains—sometimes. But prospective jurors get up frequently and swear they do not believe in capital punishment, could under no circumstances give an unqualified first degree verdict. But the moralists say lynching is itself an abominable crime and that can not be successfully denied.

But again, what about an adequate punishment for the wrong committed against the unfortunate woman, who as you read in The Times, Friday, was brought from Jackson county to a local hospital to undergo a serious operation. Sorrow and affliction are the portion of this woman. A widow, left husbandless years ago, with two small children, she bravely took the struggle for the care and education of them. All she had was a few acres of Jackson county hill lands and with her own hands she began to extract from their rude and inhospitable bosom the living her staunch courage and faith told her would come of her struggles. She plowed, she sowed and she reaped tireless energy born of a mother's tireless energy. All the world owed her admiration and sympathy and much of it owed her help. Yet, the other night, after she had slugged a goodly portion of her corn and left it in the field to be hauled away the next day, thieves came and carried it away.

Is there law of statute book, or born of outraged justice to punish a crime like that?

REGARDLESS OF LIMIT

THE main trouble with a good thing is that its projectors do not know when to stop.

Edward Ganevan and Regina Sassone are on trial in New York for defrauding the government on forged liquor permits.

They had a good thing. Regina, who is described as beautiful, of course, had a job in the office of the state prohibition commissioner. She stole blank permits therefrom and she and Ganevan, handsome and dashing, forged signatures thereon and sold them to the high rollers. They cleared up thirty thousand dollars a day. But they didn't know when to stop. So after a year's operation the secret service caught them and now both are going to the penitentiary for long terms, maybe.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

THE FLOOD

NOW there were many men, women and children on the earth, and many wicked. There was a good man named Noah who pleased God. God told him to build a large ship called The Ark, take his family, two kinds of every bird, beast and insect and food for all and go into the Ark, for he was going to punish the wicked. Then God caused rain to fall for forty days and nights. All people and living things not in the Ark were drowned. A year after the ground became dry and the Ark was high on Mt. Ararat. Noah, his family and all living things went forth. Noah built an altar and offered thanks to God.

New York-Day-By-Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, February 27.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up and to an inn where came a merry crowd to breakfast with E. Oppenheim, the English traveler, and I found him a plain spoken man and one who has seen much of the world. Thence to my chambers where came E. Steinke to make a portrait of my poor self.

With my wife, poor wretch, to the galleries to see some Spanish paintings and big with admiration for one, a lady with a white lace mantilla, but Heavens! the cost. Saw along the highway D. Fairbanks and his wife and their Belgian dog and how the populace turned to gaze upon them.

Going to the park alone I felt in with an old acquaintance whose amours are mightily talked of in the city and he did stick me with his Byronic philosophies, meant to excuse himself for his neglect of his lady, and we had hot words, he telling me his affairs were not mine which was true.

In the evening to dine at a cellar, where, served by a woman who smoked as she worked, something I have not seen before. Later to see "The Who Gets Slapped," a silly play and so home and to bed.

Stage salaries are surpassing those of grand opera. Chalapin, the Russian basso, received only $500 for his first Metropolitan appearance and $1,000 for subsequent appearances. Muratore, the French tenor, received $2,500 performance, a figure higher than that ever paid Caruso by $300.

Yet Ed Wynn, starring in his own show and owning one-third, is averaging $4,000 a week. Al Jolson, who also owns half of his show, is making $5,000 weekly and Fred Stone, who figures by a percentage arrangement, Marilyn Miller, star of "Sally," is said to be the highest paid actress on the American stage, receiving between $2,200 and $3,400 a week, her contract calling for 10 per cent of the gross receipts. Leon Errol, the comedian of the piece, receives $1,750 a week, which is perhaps the highest "straight" salary paid any comedian.

The young men who keep a few paces ahead of the styles are appearing on the avenue with a gay colored silk handkerchief hanging from the overcoat pocket. In some cases the handkerchief matches the coat or the muffler but most of them are salmon pink, plum and yellow and flaming red.

Dr. Walter Traprock, whose "Cruise of the Kawa" has been the most widely discussed burlesque on the South Sea craze in years, is George S. Chappell in real life. His real pursuit is architecture and he is a member of a New York firm of architects. He writes merely for amusement. He is also a musician, water colorist and after dinner speaker. And a Yale graduate.

Those seeking a new aesthetic sensation are finding it at one of the after theatres in Greenwich Village the Chavilux is being shown. The Chavilux is a black steel box which provides the orchestration of color by the means of a mechanical keyboard, something like the keyboard of an organ. The colors are thrown on a screen, progressing and fusing in unbroken lines—sometimes gray and then magenta and at other times presenting all in the spectrum in a dizzy whirl.

It is quite unusual to sit in the darkened theatre and hear the gasps and surprising "Bravos" as the color symphonies are being rendered. When one of the compositions is applied a long time it is repeated. The audience is composed of short haired girls and long haired men in flowing ties and between numbers they gather in groups and seriously discuss the innovation.

"I Love You, Mother"

By Joy Allison

I love you, mother, said little John. Then, forgetting his work, his hat went on.

And he was off, to the garden swing. Leaving his mother the wood to bring.

I love you mother, said little Nell. I love you better than I can tell. Then she teased and pouted half the day.

Till mother was glad when she went to play.

I love you, mother, said little Fan. Today I'll help you all I can. To the cradle then she did softly creep.

And rocked the baby till it fell asleep.

Then, stepping softly, she took the broom. And swept the floor and dusted the room. Busy and happy all day was she. Helpful and cheerful as child could be.

I love you, mother, again they said— Three little children going to bed. How do you think that mother guessed Which of them really loved her best.

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND — BY BRIGGS

Abner's Anodyne

All the neighbors wondered how Abner Allen and his wife got along. She was generally considered to be a cantankerous sort, but so far as anyone knew, Abner had never been heard to utter a complaint. Then Abner died and Hezekiah Billings felt at liberty to tell the story.

"Abner did complain—sort of—just once," he said. "We was up loggin' an' Abner was sort of limp' around and sayin' how his shoes hurt him. So I ast him why in tarnation he wore shoes that was too small and Abner sez, sez he: 'Well, he sez, 'I always buys 'em too small. When I got on tight shoes, sez Abner, 'I forgot all my other troubles.' Yessir, that's the only time I ever really heard Abner criticize his wife."

As Gosh To Gosh
"How," asked the sailor from the U. S. S. Perpetual Enlistment, "does the ten-year naval holiday suit you?"
"Great," replied his buddy enthusiastically. "I wonder if the skipper's got our discharge papers made out yet."

Expert Linguists
"How is your little baby brother, Willie? Can he talk yet?"
"Yes, he talks all right; but he only only Ma and Grandma can understand what he says."—From Judge.

If You Are Well Bred
You will not tick your your gloves in at the wrist, leaving your arms covered at a dinner table.
You will write always of things that spread a pleasant mood.
You will, in answering letters, make it a point to answer the questions asked in the letters.
